Window breaks

I got in a accident by breaking a window and I got grounded.

First, my friend said lets throw a snowball at my window because it would be fun.

Second, I make a snowball that is big and hard and then I throw it at the window and crack it shattered in to millions of peaces and my mom came out and I said it wasn't me but she saw me throw the snowball at the window.

Third, my mom says come here ... so I come to here and her first word she say is get in the ~~safe~~ car and when she got in the ~~safe~~ car ~~car~~ and I said where are we going and she says to the window store and I said do I have to pay for it and she says ~~g~~ Yes! in a mean voice.

Finally, we get home whi with the window and I had to help get it out of the car and then the hard part came putting it in and it took us a hour to put it in and then she says your grounded for a month.

Last, that's all I have to say about my window break.

sincerely,
